

No-Rim-Cut Tires 10% Oversize

What They Ended

Note what these tires have ended.
Rim-cutting has been made impossible.
The oversize has ended overloading.
And now we end skidding without, at the same time, giving a short-lived tire.
That's why Goodyears far outsell all others.
That's why last year's sales exceeded our previous 12 years put together.

$1,000,000 Saved Monthly

Men had used, up to Nov. 1st, 1,700,000 Goodyear tires.

They are used today on some 250,000 cars.

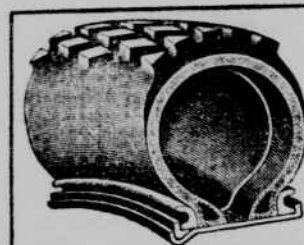

And they are saving tire users, beyond any question, a million dollars monthly.

This Is How

Statistics show that 23 per cent of all clincher tires get rim-cut. Our patent type saves that 23 per cent.

The 10 per cent oversize, under average conditions, adds 25 per cent to the tire mileage.

These savings are actual. Tens of thousands have proved them. And one swift glance will tell you how they come about.

ALL-PREP ELEVEN IS PICKED BY R. A. FETZER

BY R. A. FETZER.
All-Prep Football Eleven.
Centre, Priddy, Woodberry Forest.
Right guard, Creckmore, Jefferson School.
Left guard, G. Anderson, Woodberry Forest.
Right tackle, Laurel, Staunton Military Academy.
Left tackle, Farran, Woodberry Forest.
Right end, G. Walker, Woodberry Forest.
Left end, Kinsolving, Episcopal High School.
Quarter back, Burnett, Episcopal High School.
Right half back, K. Walker, Woodberry Forest.
Full back, Grainger, Woodberry Forest.

In selecting a mythical eleven to represent the cream of the Virginia prep school players and at the same time a team that would be the most formidable fighting machine, there are many important considerations which often escape the casual observer.

There is always a diversity of opinion even in naming the star players of a single game, and the difficulty of making an all-prep choice is multiplied about eightfold. This is particularly true in preparatory school football, where the players are somewhat erratic and often show a complete reversal of form.

Some players are stars on account of the scarcity of material in their particular positions, while others who are really of more than average ability are eclipsed by some unusually brilliant player. Again, many players have cheerfully sacrificed personal glory for the good of their team and have handicapped themselves by shifting to some new position. Though following all the teams as closely as circumstances would allow, the writer was unable to see all of them in their most important games, and consequently he does not claim that all the selections are indisputable. However, the team as named is strong in all departments of the game.

At centre, Priddy, of Woodberry Forest, again stands pre-eminent in his position. On the offense he is steady and aggressive and always a menace to the opponents' secondary defense. His defensive work even surpassed his offensive. Possessing an uncanny ability to diagnose his opponents' attack, he either spoiled the plays himself or called them for his team mates. He is a deadly tackle, an almost infallible passer, and is always on the ball.

Creckmore, centre of Jefferson School, has been moved to right guard, and in this position receives first call. He is a strong, experienced player, good at opening holes and hard to move on the defense.

G. Anderson, of Woodberry Forest, completes a strong centre trio. He makes up in keen aggressiveness what he lacks in weight and experience, and is a close follower of the ball. His blocking of the opponents' secondary defense was a feature of his playing. Farran, of Woodberry Forest, possesses all the qualifications of a remarkable tackle. He combines weight with unusual quickness and is alert and aggressive. His playing in the championship game stamped him as one of the very best men in his position on the scholastic gridiron. Besides these qualifications, he is a good punter and a splendid man for the kick-off.

Laurel, of S. M. A., is selected for the position of left tackle. Though not as heavy as Farran, he is a player of experience and unusual dash, especially good on the defense. Harmon, of Jefferson School; Grimes, of Woodberry Forest; and Schwab, of Augusta

Military Academy, all played a strong game at tackle.

G. Walker, of Woodberry Forest, and Kinsolving, of Episcopal High School, compose a pair of remarkable ends. G. Walker, by his speed and ability to pull down forward passes, made himself an invaluable factor in the open game. He is a splendid interferer, gets down fast under punts and seldom fails to nail his man. Kinsolving, besides being a good end, both on the offense and the defense, is without a peer as a punter. He is also a splendid drop-kicker and a good forward-passer. Jones, of Woodberry Forest, is lacking only in speed. In blocking his tackle and as a high, sure tackler he surpassed both G. Walker and Kinsolving.

The position of right half back is conceded to K. Walker, of Woodberry Forest. His terrific line-plunging was a feature of almost every game. He might truly be called the human bullet of the Virginia prep schools. His defensive work was characterized by a marked aptitude in following the ball, and by fierce, effective tackling. There are several strong applicants for the other half back position. Flannigan, of Jefferson School; Tanner, of Woodberry Forest; Speer, of Episcopal High School; Jenkins, of Staunton Military Academy; and Burdett, of Augusta Military Academy. Flannigan is a strong runner, a splendid defensive man, and a superb forward passer. Tanner showed flashes of phenomenal football, particularly in broken field running. However, his inconsistency and rather loose defensive work eliminates him. Speer is a sterling back of usual speed, but he failed to show to advantage in his most important game. Jenkins is a remarkable end and an all-around backfield man, and is particularly good at breaking up forward passes. But to Burdett belongs the choice as a running-mate for Walker. In line plunging and short off-tackle plays this pair would be unsurpassed, and Burdett's defensive work can hardly be improved on.

Grainger, of Woodberry Forest, is a man admirably qualified to round out the back field. His clever broken-field running and clean-cut handling of punts, together with his adeptness up forward passing and in breaking up forward passes, secures for him the selection for the position of full back. His work as an interferer for his half backs was a feature of his playing, and made possible many of their gains. He is also a dependable place-kicker, and seldom missed a goal after touch down.

Though there are a number of quarter backs whose work at advancing the ball was notable, good headwork and generalship were rare. Gooch, of Jefferson School; Rosenberger, of Staunton Military Academy; Dechert, of Woodberry Forest School; Alexander, of Fishburne Military School; and Burnett, of Episcopal High School, are all good men. However, the honor of directing this team goes to Burnett. He is a strong runner, quick to get under way, a good handler of punts and a splendid interferer. He handled his team with decision and judgment, and showed excellent ability in selecting his plays. Besides these qualifications, he is the possessor of a superb fighting spirit, which is contagious to his team-mates.

Anderson, end, of Woodberry Forest, by his all-around usefulness as an end and back field man, has won for himself the position of utility man. He is a persistent fighter, a strong, fast and hard runner, and a brilliant man in the open field. Lack of experience alone bars his selection for a first place.

It is to be regretted that there are only eleven positions to be filled, since there are so many deserving applicants. The team named, however, combines a defense unapproached by any single eleven, and an offense that would be both consistent and brilliant, and that would show all the versatility of attack possible under this season's rules.

HIGH SCHOOL IS PREPARING QUINT

Instructor Jones Busy Sorting
Candidates for This Year's Basketball Team.

During the past week the basketball squad of the John Marshall High School has been working hard to get in shape for the coming season. Eighteen boys responded to Mr. Jones' call. Of last year's five only two are left. Padgett and Robbins, the guards, Cooley, the "door worker," "Hooks" Quarles, the "sharpshooter," and MacElroy, centre, will be sorely missed. Padgett and Hatcher will fill the forward positions very acceptably. The centre man will be hardest to pick. Atkinson, Bethel and Fuller are out for this "job." Baker, Hargrove and Brennaman are fighting for the honor of working with Robbins.

Manager Brumble has such teams as Norfolk High School, Portsmouth High School and Newport News High School on his schedule, with many other attractive games pending. Class games will start this week—Freshmen vs. Sophomores, Juniors vs. Seniors.

Pentathlon.
After the Christmas vacation a contest will be held to decide the best all-around athlete in the high school. As the boys receive an all-sided training, very interesting performances should result. Atkinson, Robbins, Craig, Brumble, Padgett, Hoover, Parrish, Klavensahl, Williams and many others will take part.

COLLEGE LOSES VERY FIRST GAME

Local Quint Is Outplayed All the Way by William and Mary.

Williamsburg, Va., December 7.—William and Mary opened its basketball season to-night by defeating the Richmond College quint by the score of 34 to 15. From the time of the first whistle it was apparent that the visitors would play a losing game. They were completely outclassed, owing to the fact that they failed to cover-up properly. For Richmond College the best work was done by Duffey and Duval, while for William and Mary the stars were W. C. Metcalf and Hubbard. The teams lined up as follows:
Metcalf, W. C. Centre.....Duffey
Metcalfe, J. .... R. F. .... Duval
Zehner, ..... L. F. .... Brock
Turner, ..... R. G. .... Lambart
Hubbard, ..... L. G. .... Wiley

GEORGE P. CROKER WINS.

Defeats G. J. Kellogg at Pinehurst in Golf Tourney for President's Cup.

Pinehurst, N. C., December 7.—Geo. P. Croker, of the Brookline Country Club, Mass., won the President's trophy in to-day's final round of the opening golf tournament—7 up and 5 to play—over G. J. Kellogg, of the Alpine Club, Massachusetts.

The next event on the schedule is the ninth annual holiday week tournament, December 27 to 31, which precedes the tenth annual midwinter tournament, January 7 to 11.

KRAMER SHOWS HEELS TO FIELD

Justifies Followers, Crossing Tape
First in Preliminaries to Six-Day Grind.

Madison Square Garden, New York, December 7.—Frank Kramer, the Newark cycle star, who has held the professional bicycle championship of the world for eleven years, won a rather easy victory in the one-mile professional sprint here to-night. The event was one of a number of contests run as a curtain-raiser for the six-day grind, which will open here one minute after midnight Sunday.

A crowd of 18,000 dried-in-the-wool fanatics were jammed in the hall. Kramer trailed the field to nearly the last lap and then sprinted down ahead of the field, covering the mile in 2:27.

One Foster was second and Gordon Walker, third. The summaries:

One-mile amateur handicap, final—Won by Harry Kaiser, New York; F. Weiser, Newark, second; Weber, Newark, third. Time, 1:57 3-5.

One-mile professional handicap, final—Won by Lloyd Thomas, Salt Lake City; Jumbo Wells, of New Zealand, second; Worth, Mitten, Davenport, Iowa, third. Time, 1:52 2-5.

One-mile special, professional—Won by Eddie Root, Boston; Percy Lawrence, Salt Lake City, second. Time, 3 minutes.

The entries for the six-day race are: Frank Kramer and Jimmy Moran.

American; Jackie Clarke and Fred Hill, Australia-American; Alfred Grenda and Ernie Tye, Australian; Walter Rutt and Joe Fogler, German-American; Eddie Roland and Paddy Hehre, New York-Melbourne; Grassy Ryan and Lloyd Thomas, Irish; Oscar Egg and Andre Perchicot, French; Paul and Frank Suter, Swiss; John Bedell and Worthington Mitten, Long Island-Iowa; Bobby Walthour and George Cameron, Dixie-New York; Pete Drobach and Elmer Collins, Boston; Percy Lawrence and Jake Magin, California; New Jersey; Jumbo Wells and Gordon Walker, New Zealand; Arvin Loftus and Clarence Carnen, Providence-Jamaica; Marcel Berthet and Maurice Brocco, France-Italian.

LIPTON BRAGS OF FROWESS.
Then He Misses Shots at Deer, Though Telling of Tigers He Killed.
St. Louis, Mo., December 7.—After having told the members of a hunting party, given in his honor by A. A. Busch, Jr., the St. Louis brewing magnate, at Busch's Grandview hunting lodge, St. Louis County, this afternoon, how he had stood unarmed with three feet of savage tigers in India, Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous English sportsman, shot at two buck deer and missed. One turkey gobbler bagged by Busch was the only game brought back to St. Louis after the hunting party had eaten luncheon at Busch's Sunset Inn.
Sir Thomas afterward told at the luncheon that the savage Indian tigers were in a cage at the Zoological Gardens in Calcutta. Sir Thomas made no excuses for his failure to kill the deer to-day.
